

DUECC

DURHAM UNIVERSITY ECUMENICAL CHRISTIAN COUNCIL

Who are we?

DUECC exists to further Christian unity and witness between the many different denominational groups within Durham University, working with the Chaplains, the Cathedral and Durham Churches Together. We do this by staging various events throughout the year.

What do we do?

Last year DUECC ran these events:

- Prayer meetings
- Candlelit Procession to the Cathedral
- One World Week service
- Christian Unity service
- Annual Lecture in association with the Chaplains
- Socials for all Christian societies
- Vocations service— 'Called to be Me'
- Talk by Dr Paul Murray on ecumenism
- Denominations forum
- Football tournaments

We aim to repeat many of these events this year and any suggestions for what you would like to see DUECC doing are very welcome!

What are our aims?

DUECC seeks to enable its member student Christian societies to work together for better witness to the Gospel in Durham and the University by

- Encouraging unity between Christians from the different denominations and traditions around our shared belief in Jesus Christ's redemptive love for creation.
- Affirming this shared faith by joining together in worship, fellowship and Christian mission wherever possible
- Facilitating co-operation between the various different societies and mutual support for their own activities
